Healing is the gift of those who are prepared to learn there is no world, and can accept the lesson now.

This is a call to those who have recognized the imperative for a fundamental awakening to a True Identity in the Universal Mind of Christ. This is only a perfectly natural, quantum evolution in consciousness, which is the enlightened destiny of every human being.

True perception is the means by which the world is saved from sin, for sin does not exist. And it is this that true perception sees.

The world stands like a block before Christ's face. But true perception looks on it as nothing more than just a fragile veil, so easily dispelled that it can last no longer than an instant.

Where destruction was perceived the face of Christ appears, and in that instant is the world forgot, with time forever ended as the world spins into nothingness from where it came.

You will not fail in your mission because I did not fail in mine. Give me but a little trust in the name of the complete trust I have in you, and we will easily accomplish the goal of perfection together.
